

Category		Trail Name	Description	Area / Getting There
Starting Out		Natalie's Birches	The upper portion of this trail is home to the Mooscalator, the best-named surface lift anywhere; easy pitch, perfect for beginners	Base Area; from the Base Lodge, head lookers left down to Mooscalator (M on the trail map)
Learning		Boardwalk	A longer green trail in the Base Area that requires loading a lift	Base Area; take the Double Runner East chair (I on the trail map)
Groomer		Whiffletree	A favorite, Upper & Lower Whiffletree run under the Whiffletree chair and offer a wide open trail with a few slightly steeper sections	Whiffletree (A); exit Whiffletree right. Take Rollaway for an easier entry
Scenic Cruiser		Timberline	One of the most beautiful trails at Sugarloaf, Timberline is a cruiser located on the far western edge of the mountain	Timberline (D); take Timberline and exit right
Warming Up		Lower Tote Road	One of the most popular trails at The Loaf, Tote Road is a fantastic cruiser to get the legs warm	Super Quad (B); exit right
Groomer		Ramdown	Top groomer; located in the King Pine area with access to Skyline and Whiffletree areas	King Pine (C); exit right. Alternatively, take Skyline and traverse via the Spillway X-Cut
Longest		Upper & Lower Tote Road	While we've mentioned Tote Road above, it actually starts much higher on the mountain! The full trail runs from the summit to the base – making for a long, beautiful ride	Timberline (D); exit left
Fresh Powder		Sluice	Sluice transitions from black to blue. The top portion features a steep headwall that mellows out into a wide open trail. Lookout for powder stashes on the sides of the trail	Skyline (E); exit left
Burner		Hayburner	As the name implies, this trail is perfect for getting the legs going. Wide open groomer, great for starting the day with G-turns	Super Quad (B); exit right
Showing Off		Sheerboom	Ready to hit the bumps? Head to Sheerboom, directly under the Super Quad, your skills will be on display	SuperQuad (B); exit right. Start down Skidder, then cut right for Upper Competition Hill. Head down and Sheerboom will be on your left
Bumps (Advanced)		Bubblecuffer	The favorite trail of many Loafers, this steep, narrow, bumpy trail will test the legs of even the most seasoned skier	Skyline (E); exit left
Steep & Scary		White Nitro	If you thought the "Gondi Line" was steep, you're in for a rude awakening. Make it even more extreme by starting from the top and skiing White Nitro Extension	Skyline (E); exit left. For the extension, take Timberline (D) and exit left. Traverse to the top of the last marked trail
Above the Trees		Snowfields™	Only open for a short time when conditions allow, the Snowfields offer the only lift-serviced above treeline skiing on the East Coast. If open, this is not to be missed!	Snowfields; take Timberline (D) and exit straight back. You'll see a boot pack heading towards the back of the mountain. Then hike for ~5 minutes
Glades		Brackett Basin	Brackett Basin is a massive expanse of lightly maintained tree skiing. You'll be hard pressed to ski the same line twice	Brackett Basin; take King Pine (C) and exit left. Head skier's right and you'll see an archway leading to the basin
